David Bohannon Protests Juvenile Home Location

San Mateo County Supervisors recently ordered the filing of a letter of protest submitted by David Bohannon, contractor and subdivider regarding the much debated location of the new juvenile home.

Chairman Edward McDonald remarked, in passing, that Judge A. B. Cotton would probably have the final say. Bohannon's protest concerned the location of the juvenile home, west of the Community hospital, a move strongly opposed by County Executive Frederick Peterson who declared that future expansion of San Mateo county was inevitable and would require a corresponding expansion of the Community hospital facilities.

County supervisors also heard a proposal by President A. L. Patrick of the Princeton Packers to establish a non-objectionable by-products plant at the Coastside Cannery.

Resolutions for transfer of $2000 from the motor vehicle in lieu fund to the sheriff's salary appropriation fund for supplementing police protection at Half Moon Bay and Emerald Lake were referred to the sheriff's office after Supervisor Henry W. Edmonds challenged need for the money at Coastside.

Written recommendations concerning the $1000 asked for the two districts will be requested of the sheriff.

Following reading of a letter to the supervisors challenging the right of the county to guarantee improvement bonds, Winfield Scott manager of the Civic League of San Mateo county, said he was making a study of "legal recourse."

A protest "as emphatic and vigorous as can be made" was voiced in the letter denouncing the board's action and stated the board had "no moral right to involve all of the taxpayers of the county in financing the operations of subdividers and speculative builders.

"From expressions voiced by members of your board," the letter continued "it would appear that you believe you are able to discriminate between good and bad ventures in subdivision and may act accordingly. Are you able to so discriminate? Is it your duty to make such decisions?" was Scott's query.

September 17 Is Now Deadline for Inc. Tax Payments

Income tax payments received by September 17 on tax obligations to be fulfilled in the third quarter period will be considered current, Collector of Internal Revenue James G. Smyth of the First California District said today.

With the recent return of federal employees to the 40 hour week, Internal Revenue offices are closed Saturday, September 15, the end of the third quarter income tax period. Hence payments received Monday, September 17 will be considered paid on time Collector Smyth pointed out. Office hours for the Internal Revenue are from 8 a. m. to 4:45 p. m., Monday through Friday.

Teen-age Boys Steal Car, Are Hurt In Collision

Two teen-age boys ran afoul of the law on Tuesday, September 11 when they went on a rampage in a stolen car and careened into the car of John Fogundes, 61 Randolph street, San Francisco. The accident occurred at Hillside boulevard and Price street, Daly City.

The boys were brought to the Daly City Police station where it was discovered that the Ford coupe they were driving had been reported stolen in South San Francisco. One of the boys was treated for a slight cut on the left side of his head and was then held for questioning by Deputy Sheriff George Krehl, who later had both boys taken to the Juvenile Home at Redwood City. Fogundes' car, a Buick sedan and the stolen Ford coupe were both taken to a local garage.

War Chest Drive Starts October 1

Your War Chest donation won't hurt so badly if you follow the suggestion of Mrs. Muriele Pabst War Chest chairman for Daly City. Put a dollar a week aside until the official opening of this year's drive, says Mrs. Pabst and get the War Chest off to a flying start.

With the starting date set at October 1, 1945 approximately two weeks at a dollar a week per person would make a sizeable nest egg. The quota for this year amounts to $234,953, an increase of $19,953 over last year's $215,000. San Mateo county cleared the hurdle last year with a nice margin according to Lorne G. McAloney, executive secretary.

Fund donations for national organizations as well as local charities are cleared through the county war chest, making it possible for a single donation to take the place of numerous smaller campaigns.

Local organizations benefitting from funds collected here are the San Mateo County Preventorium, the Salvation Army, San Mateo County Blood Bank, YMCA, Affiliated Catholic Charities, the Girl Scout Councils and the Boy Scouts.

Jewelry Store Window Broken, Contents Looted

A shadow of the Victory Day vandalism on San Francisco's Market street fell across a Daly City jewelry store on Tuesday night, September 11, when three unknown sailors threw a rock through the window of C. Behrend's store at 6301 Mission street and looted the contents.

Fortunately Mr. Behrend removes his more valuable stock from the display window at night and the thieves made a comparatively small haul. A ring and locket set valued at $25, two lockets and chains valued at $8 each, and two gold crosses and chains valued at $7.50 each were taken, amounting to $74 in all.

An unidentified man brought the incident to the attention of a clerk at the neighboring Central Creamery, who in turn called the police. Officers Edmond Heim and August Benassini responded.

In the meantime two other witnesses, a Mr. Hinds of 625 Prague street and John Johnson, a cab driver hurried to the home of the owner and brought him to the store to estimate his damage and loss.

As a sequel to the night's events, Father McKenna of Our Lady of Perpetual Help church found a ring and a scattering of jewelry boxes in the driveway between the church and the school, early Wednesday morning, which had apparently been discarded by the fleeing trio. His report to the police office brought a prompt response from Officers Heim and Benassini who took the ring and boxes to the police station to be held as evidence against the time that the sailors will be apprehended.

Batten the Hatches! Nothing Seems Safe In USS Daly City

A light-fingered Nature lover turned in the dizziest mystery of the week when a nocturnal tree thief literally took the cleaners to the cleaners for a haul of three small trees, and a broken window. An assortment of local wearing apparel in the Modiste Cleaners, 6202 Mission street, apparently left the thief cold for nothing inside was molested. Officers Henry Sunderman and James Walsh who investigated the whimsical theft were of the opinion that the window was broken during the skirmish while our mystery man was struggling to uproot the trees in front of the cleaners. Only three yawning holes remained today in the puzzle of the purloined trees.

Situated as close as a cousin to the cleaner's, Frank's Service Station at Flournoy and Mission streets wheeled into action when the theft was discovered and brought the officers post haste to the scene of the crime. Followers of John Barleycorn have been known to carry home some wierd contributions including one who bagged an iron deer from a mayor's lawn, so perhaps it can all be filed away under the heading of alcoholic inspiration. Be that as it may, the local police are doing everything possible to run down the missing trees and the miscreant who stole them.

Plans Nearly Completed for Extension of Junipero Serra Boulevard, Contract to be Awarded Early In 1946

The Daly City Council meeting of September 11 was called to order by Mayor A. J. Gaggero at 8:10 p. m. with Councilman Eugene V. Lynch acting as clerk of the board in the absence of B. C. Ross. Councilman Howard McHugh was also noted absent.

The minutes of the meeting held Monday, August 27 were read and approved.

A communication from the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company requesting permission to place anchors on present poles on the south side of East Vista avenue, five feet east of Hillside boulevard and on the east side of Hillside boulevard, eight feet south of Gambetta street was referred to the city engineer for his recommendation.

City Attorney Hoffman was instructed to look into the matter of delinquent taxes and assessments against four lots assessed to Mr. Molfino. Paul A. McCarthy representing Mr. Molfino inquired if the city of Daly City still makes any claim against the lots since certain court action has been taken and, if so, what was the amount of the present claim.

A report from the San Mateo County Department of Public Health was read and ordered filed.

An application from Andrew Michael Conaty, 27 Hillcrest drive for a position with the Daly City Fire department was referred to the personnel clerk of the board of review.

A petition with 17 signatures requesting the council to grant Irene Crawford permission to operate a beauty parlor at her home, 836 Hanover street, was referred to the city attorney. This district being zoned for residential purposes it will be necessary to amend the ordinance if permission is granted.

A communication from the Public Utility Commission of San Francisco in reference to letters from the city of Daly City and a petition of Daly City residents for extension of No. 14 car line to a point near the former boundry line of Colma was read.

They state that following a survey, "It appears that the present terminal at Hillcrest drive is perfectly satisfactory to business interests in Daly City."

Also, "It appears that the territory immediately south of Colma is adequately served by the No. 40 and Greyhound buses.

"It is therefore decided that the Municipal Railway can make no change in the terminal in Daly City."

Councilman Lynch suggested that a copy of this letter be sent to each of the petitioners.

A resolution accepting a quiet claim deed to the site on which the Daly City Library is situated was adopted by a unanimous vote of the council.

Councilman John Craig stated that Daly City intends to adopt a plumbing ordinance similar to the uniform code which now governs San Mateo county.

City Engineer Klassen attended the meeting of the League of California Cities held in the Palo Alto Community Center, Wednesday, September 5 and reported that most of the morning was spent discussing the necessity of the various cities and city councils preparing plans and specifications for any and all postwar projects they are contemplating, in order to avail themselves of federal and state funds as soon as same may be procured.

The widening of Hillcrest drive will be one of the projects Daly City intends to undertake as soon as possible. This will be in combination with the continuation and extension of Junipero Serra boulevard for which plans are nearly completed. It is expected that the contract for this work can be awarded by the beginning of 1946.

A. J. Bodien stated that the San Mateo County War Council

Japanese Face-Saving

The Japs certainly go in for face saving in a big way. When they held the upper hand in the Pacific they sneered at the Allies, tortured the prisoners of war, and committeed innumerable atrocities. That was face No. 1.

But all the while they were "saving" Face No. 2. This is the face with the humble look or the toothy smile for Allied troops and officials and even for maltreated war prisoners now being released.

Let us not forget, however, that face No. 1 is being saved for future use if they can get the opportunity to put it on.

Of course, the Nips would have us believe that the face now in evidence is the real one; that they are basically kind hearted and that they have, in the twinkling of an eye, dropped militarism and have been converted to true democracy.

Nothing is said, however, about being sorry for the crimes they have committed. They, like the Germans, are moral idiots. They have no feeling of shame or guilt for past conduct. We should remember that people who feel no sorrow for their misdeeds are not likely to reform.

The Japs are really sorry about one thing: that they failed in their war of aggression. But Emperor Hirohito would have us believe that Japan only went to war as a means of national survival against the western powers.

We Americans always prefer to think the best about others. We don't make a practice of nursing grudges. But in the case of the Nips we can't afford to give them the benefit of any future doubt and we must stay mad at them for the next century if necessary—and if possible—in order to prevent them from ever again showing face No. 1.

Only in this way can we save our children and grandchildren from having to fight the war all over again 25 or 50 years from now.

After the Atomic Bomb

One cannot look at the photographs of utter destruction which the atomic bomb left at Hiroshima without realizing that, truly, we have entered an era from which there can be no retreat.

That a single bomb, said to weigh only 400 pounds, could have caused such a ghastly result is inconceivable to the average man. Yet, there is the evidence: Piles of rubble as far as the eye can see, withered trees, the scorched ground. One correspondent said that all the destruction in Europe and Asia seemed to be concentrated right there in Hiroshima.

As long as the United States and Britain hold the secret of this great force there is not likely to be another war—at least not one involving us. But we are warned by scientists that other nations will be able to find that secret for themselves in five years through research. What then? Are the nations to live in dire fear, not only of their neighbors, but of virtually all other nations?

The atomic bomb seems certain to exercise even greater power politically than it does physically. In other words, the nations will eventually be faced with the choice of extinction or working together for a genuine and lasting peace.

In the past, nations have not gotten along because some did not want to. They saw, or thought they saw, profit in war. If all are forced to live in peace, the time should come when all will want to live in peace.

Then the infinitely greater power of true brotherhood will supplant the force of atomic energy as the keeper of peace on earth.

Overseas Xmas Mailing

Nothing could please the men in the Pacific more than to be home by Christmas. But they and their families know that only a comparatively small percentage of them will realize this desire.

It may be well into next year before the bulk of our troops have been shipped home. Meanwhile, let us do all we can to keep them happy while they—and we—are waiting for the time when they will get back.

Now is the time to send those Christmas gifts that will help to cheer them up. The Army and Navy have set September 15 to October 15 as the overseas mailing period. Gifts mailed after that date may not reach them in time.

Remember to wrap the presents in wooden or heavy cardboard boxes and address them in clear, large print on the wrapper. It is also suggested that the address should be printed on the package before it is wrapped, apparently so that if the outer wrapping is torn or destroyed it will still be possible to determine who it was intended for.

Packages must not weigh over five pounds or be more than 18 inches long or a total of 36 inches in girth combined.

Let's get started immediately.

San Bruno Church Announces Plans For Fall Festival

Final plans were made for the Fall Festival which will be held by St. Bruno's Catholic church when the committee met last week in the parish hall. The affair, which promises to hold plenty of interest for the young people as well as their parents, will be held on the church property on San Bruno avenue, September 21, 22 and 23.

Reports were made by the chairmen of the various booths and arrangements were made for the erection of booths, the making of posters for advertising purposes as well as the painting of signs for the booths.

Mrs. Kitty Viall, chairman of the cake booth announces a social to be held in the parish hall on September 15, the proceeds of which will be used to help defray the expenses of her booth. Music, dancing and games will be enjoyed after which refreshments will be served. A good time is promised everyone attending and the committee helping Mrs. Viall with the evening's activities includes Mesdames Constance Sweeney, Marie Rapsey, Alice Pickett, Kay Bigot, Margaret Lama, Josephine Nutini and Eleanor McNamara.

The proceeds from the Festival will be added to the fund for the Catholic school to be erected in San Bruno.

Lifting of 35-Mile Speed Limit Aids Highway Buses

Lifting of the 35-mile speed limit will have virtually the same effect as a substantial increase in the number of highway buses serving the West's transportation needs. This was the assertion today of F. W. Ackerman, vice-president of Pacific Greyhound Lines, the bus system that provides local and long-distance service in seven western states over a network of highways. The bus executive stated that Greyhound is revising schedules on the time-saving basis now permitted by the Office of Defense Transportation.

"When the wartime speed limit was reduced to 35 miles per hour in September, 1942," Ackerman explained, "it meant a marked decrease in the number of trips a bus could make, and a corresponding decrease in the number of passengers each bus could carry in a given period. The effect on intercity transportation was much the same as though a part of our total number of buses was withdrawn from service.

"Schedules are rapidly being readjusted to normal pre-war operating time, and this will increase the service to all the points where Greyhound operates."

Escape Punishment

German war criminals of World War I escaped practically unpunished. The German government requested that their nationals accused of violating the laws and customs of war be tried by German tribunals and the Allies consented to this procedure. Sixteen cases were actually tried and only six convictions resulted. The sentences were generally recognized as being insufficient.

Tomato Is Fruit

Botanically the tomato is a fruit, being the fruit of the tomato vine but, according to the department of agriculture, by common usage it is included among the vegetables as far as garden and kitchen uses are concerned. Since early in the 19th century when people discovered the tomato was good to eat it has been used as a food. Previously it had been considered poisonous and was thought to be only a decorative plant of the flower garden called the "love apple."

Advice For Income Tax Payers

Persons who have recently changed their address and are expecting a refund on their 1944 Income Tax Return should immediately notify the Collector of Internal Revenue of the district in which the return was filed, Collector James G. Smyth advised taxpayers in San Francisco today.

Refund checks are not forwarded through the mail, the Collector pointed out but returned to the Internal Revenue Office and held for a period of six months. After this period expires they are put in a general fund.

El Carmelo Parlor Initiate Four New Members

El Carmelo Parlor No. 181 NDGW held another interesting meeting on Wednesday, September 5, a feature of which was the initiation of four new members, Mamie Caramazzo, Joan Collins, Inell Baker and Katherine Spindler. Best wishes of the Native Daughters of The Golden West are extended for a mutually happy association—welcome new members!

Routine matters completed the ladies were joined at 9 o'clock by 50 sailors from Treasure Island who danced with lovely girls in a flower garden of formals to the gay strains of accordian music. A variety of refreshments were served from sandwiches and cake to punch and coffee.

Another highlight in the week's events was San Francisco's Victory Parade on Sunday, September 9, in which approximately 24 members of the NDGW Parlor No. 181 participated. Ten members, unable to march but anxious to celebrate California's birthday, were the vanguard for a unit of 14 girls colorful in formal dresses and bearing the California Bear Flag and the Stars and Stripes. Following the parade the members were guests of the brother lodge, Native Sons of the Golden West, at the Druids Temple, where they were served refreshments.

Participants in the parade were Florence Becker, Margie Baker, Dot Donofrio, Irene Littlewood, Violet Harris, Johanna Schwarz, Marie Hogerheiden, Lucille Wohler, Lillian Colloty, Evelyn Bemis, Betty Czerwinski, Thelma Feretti, Barbara Zerga, Joan Collins, Chris Hulme, Christine Michelsen, Alice Oldham, Rose Mohr, Fredereka Volkman, Katie Wight, Pauline Quirolo, Emma Schwarz and Mrs. M. Steele.

El Carmelo Parlor Native Daughters will serve as hostesses at the Daly City Servicemen's club the week of September 16 to 22 with War Activities Chairman Louise Eliason in charge of arrangements.

Reforestation Trees

Trees for reforestation are grown in a nursery from one to four years, depending on the rate of growth of the type of tree or the size that is needed in a particular area. Most of these trees are grown in public nurseries.

STIMULATING a new interest in fabric combinations, CBS actress Agnes ("Mayor of the Town") Moorehead greets autumn in light navy wool with color contrast of shocking pink in her jacket fabric. Designed with traditional foresight of Adele Sportswear of California, the topper does double duty with dresses, and the navy bag by Ben Brody readily follows the costume

Safety Drive Opens

"Drive Carefully. Let Them Live and Learn." This slogan, imprinted on an attractive poster, is being widely distributed for display in connection with the opening of schools, by the Public Safety Department of the California State Automobile association. With this poster, the association opens a public education campaign, which will be continued throughout the year, designed to protect school children against traffic hazards.

Labor Leaders Pledge Support For War Chest Drive

Union Labor leaders, meeting in Burlingame recently, pledged their all-out support to the forthcoming fund raising campaign of the San Mateo County War and Community Chest.

Meeting in the county war chest headquarters at 1211 Burlingame avenue, they formulated plans for solicitation of all union labor members so that this county may achieve its goal of raising $234,953, according to L. C. G. Blix, who headed the union delegation. Nationally, the chest goal is $150,000,000.

Blix is California Regional Director for Labor for Human Rights, the United Nations' Relief association of the American Federation of Labor.

Local county labor leaders in attendance were U. S. Simonds, jr., representing the carpenters' union; Al Randall, business agent of the electrical workers' union; Charles Seafuse and James Joy of the painters union, and Carl Cohenour, secretary of the San Mateo Central Labor Council.

"This fund campaign is an essential job, essential to our community, to humanity and to our responsibility as Americans," said Blix as he outlined labor's participation.

The labor leaders will make appeal to the membership of all unions to give more generously this Chest fund than they did in previous years.

In one single drive the chest organization will secure funds for national agencies to carry on relief work in this country and abroad, as well as for financing the activities here of the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, YMCA, the San Mateo County Blood Bank, the San Mateo County Preventorium and the San Mateo County Catholic Charities. Sixty per cent of the funds raised here will go to these agencies.

The Bay Cities Metal Trades Council has likewise called upon all of its members to support the drive in San Mateo county, according to A. T. Wynn, secretary, and A. F. Bartholomew, president.

Judge Aylett R. Cotton, in asking all residents to give to the year to the War and Community limit when drive representatives make their door to door solicitation, said "The home front agencies face increasing problems as the emphasis is shifted from warfare to youth training.

"Surveys show that requirements of the local agencies will be greater this year than ever before. The work of the national agencies is gigantic in scope as tens of thousands of men, women and children, released from slave labor under the Nazis, return to devastated home lands."

Members of the campaign committee, working under direction of Judge Cotton, are Mrs. R. E. Pettingill, Daniel J. O'Connor and J. J. Canevari.

Cover for Dust Mop

May be made from ½ yard of outing flannel to place over the mop when cleaning the floor. On wash day this cover can be washed so that a clean mop may be on hand for the floor at all times. The cover may be treated after it is washed by sprinkling with a solution of: 1 quart paraffin oil, 4 ounces kerosene, and 8 ounces vinegar. The cover should be rolled up tightly and placed in a tight container over night. After that, it should be taken out and dried before placing it on the mop.

Household Insect

The silverfish is a household insect that may eat stored cottons, linens or other fabrics containing starch or sizing. It also goes for bookbindings. To protect any of these things in storage from silverfish put them in tight packages or boxes in a dry, cool storeroom, wrapped just as you do woolens, with all openings closed tightly.

Home Canners Told to Apply for Sugar by Sept. 15

Hurry! Hurry! Hurry! All provident home canners who want a special ration of canning sugar must have their application on file on or before September 15 or their pantries will be as bare as old Mother Hubbard's cupboard.

The termination date was set by Regional Administrator Charles R. Baird, who states that after September 15 no applications for home canning sugar will be accepted by the War Price and Rationing Board.

All applications received up until September 15 will be processed as soon as possible, according to Baird.

Local War Council To Be Disbanded

In anticipation of the imminent disbanding of the local War Council A. J. Bodien, custodian of the property loaned by the federal government to this community during the past four years, is at work on a complete report of activities during that period to be turned in to the federal government.

Bodien wishes to thank all the people who so generously devoted their time to the emergency and believes that they will all rejoice with him that a War Council is no longer a necessary part of daily living. His report to the state and government agencies responsible for the loan of property will cover every phase of the work done here during the four year period, a work which gained high praise from the government sponsors. He will also be free of the office of custodian and the $5000 bond which accompanied this responsible post.

All property will be returned to the government in good order.

Jobs Now Available For Seamen at Embarkation Port

There's still a lot of work to be done at sea before our boys are all home, and Army Transportation Corps, the Army's "navy," is calling today for more marine personnel to man transports and small craft at and between its ports and overseas bases.

Two hundred openings are available immediately for qualified mates, Diesel engineers, able-bodied seamen and oilers, Major Homer Lunt, chief of Vessel Manning Section at San Francisco Port of Embarkation announced.

In addition there are jobs and schooling waiting for youths wanting to learn about seamanship by starting as deckhands. The school is at New Orleans and those between the ages of 16 years, 10 months and 17 years, 2 months, accepted for deckhand work will be trained there for five weeks before being assigned to duty within San Francisco Port.

"Although hostilities have ceased in the Pacific, San Francisco Port of Embarkation is still busily engaged in sending supplies and soldier replacements overseas and in returning soldiers to their homes for discharge," Major Lunt said, "A large number of marine workers are needed to help finish this job faster."

Men or youths interested in this work are requested to report to Vessel Manning Section, Building 141, (Laguna and Bay streets), Fort Mason, for interviews.

Return From Week's Vacation

Mrs. John Kapor, along with Mrs. Agnes Petrocchi and her two daughters, Andrea and Diana returned on September 9 from a week's visit at the home of Mr. Kapor's folks in Sacramento. Mr. and Mrs. Kapor reside at 133 San Diego avenue and Mrs. Petrocchi at 148 Hillcrest drive here in Daly City. Kapor drove the group to Oak Park in Sacramento, and left them to vacation with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Semoni while he returned to Daly City to carry on business as usual.

Pedestrians Take Care

Pedestrians should keep in mind the fact that the wartime speed restriction of 35 miles per hour has been lifted, and that many cars are traveling at higher speeds than heretofore, the California State Automobile association points out. Therefore, in order to avoid accidents, pedestrians should exercise greater care when crossing streets, or when walking along highways.

Boosts Return

The last national fertilizer practice survey in 1938 showed that each dollar spent by the farmer for fertilizer produced a return of $3.60 in crop value increase. Using the same basic data, the estimate now is that each farmer gets between $5 and $6 return for each dollar's worth of fertilizer he puts in the soil. Fully 20 per cent of all America's crop production is the result of using fertilizer.

Highlighting the meeting was the appointment of Mrs. Vivian Pahlka, 569 Winchester street to represent the Jefferson Union High School PTA on the War Memorial committee.

Eloise Harrison, well known in local circles, will act as publicity chairman for the ensuing term.

Telephone Works

In 1876, Alexander Graham Bell was trying to send the human voice over a wire by electricity. One day he called out to his assistant: "Mr. Watson, come here; I need you!" Watson, hearing the words come out of a receiver in another room, rushed in to tell Bell that his telephone really worked!

Normal Diet

Administration of vitamin supplements to a group of apparently normal persons, consuming the usual American diet, had no demonstrable beneficial effect, medical researchists reported.

Greyhound Lines Try Out Two-Way Radio Installation

Chicago, September 12—Permission of the Federal Communications Commission to equip up to 100 intercity buses with two-way radio communication and to operate a central control transmitter is being sought by Intercity Bus Radio, Inc., a division of the National Association of Motor Bus Operators. The experiment is being undertaken by the Greyhound corporation in cooperation with several other intercity bus lines running into Chicago. Unless delays are encountered in the granting of licenses, the complete system will be in operation within 90 days.

The tentative plans, which are expected to lead to the development of a nation-wide system of two-way radio communication on highway buses, provide for the operation of a 250-watt central transmitter in the Chicago Loop. Negotiations are underway for this installation atop the Board of Trade building.

The buses will be equipped with 50-watt transmitters, combined with receivers. Greyhound plans to install the radio sets on buses of four of its lines—Pennsylvania, Central, Northland and Illinois—running into Chicago. Similar equipment is expected to be placed on the coaches of several other operating companies.

In addition, there will be three relay receiving stations located in outlying sections of Chicago. These stations will serve to pick up messages from buses on the highways for automatic relay by land wires to the main control points of the various operating companies in Chicago. While the 250-watt central transmitter will be able to reach buses on the highways as far distant as 75 miles, the lesser power of the bus transmitter and the static interference in the Chicago Loop may not always permit clear reception except through the remotely-operated relay stations. Consideration is being given to the possibility of installing antennas for these relay stations atop the large gas storage tanks that fringe the city.

The central and mobile transmitters will be Frequency Modulated (FM) and will operate on two frequencies of between 30 and 44 megacycles. These are in wave bands previously reserved by the FCC for assignment to intercity bus lines.

Not only will the central office be able to talk to and receive messages from buses on the highways, but drivers will also be able to communicate with one another while enroute.

Hold Speed Down

The majority of automobiles now in use are too old, and not in sufficiently good mechanical condition, to withstand the stress of high speed driving, the California State Automobile association warns. Motorists are strongly urged to drive at moderate speed, and to observe all traffic regulations, in order to prevent accidents which are increasing at an alarming rate.

Bear Cubs

Bear cubs are usually born while the mother is sound asleep in winter hibernation.

Safeway Stores To Sponsor S. F. Opera Broadcasts

Hailed as an outstanding effort to promote the enjoyment of the world's greatest music, Safeway Stores announce a series of broadcasts which will bring to people throughout the Pacific Coast the San Francisco Grand Opera season, as it is presented from the stage of the famous San Francisco War Memorial Opera House.

This series of 15 operas will be heard on week nights at 10 p. m. and Sundays at 4 p. m. Opening night, September 25, features the popular Metropolitan star, Rise Stevens, in the role of Carmen. On succeeding broadcasts such noted artists as Lauritz Melchior, Vivian Della Chiese, Ezio Pinza, Stella Roman, Lucia Albanese, Frederick Jagel, Lotte Lahmann, will be heard in the title roles of Der Rosenkavalier, Don Giovanni, Aida, I Pagliacci, La Boheme, to name a few.

Planned as a further service for music lovers who are unable to attend the operas, Safeway has prepared a colorful 52 page opera broadcast booklet, free of charge, to anyone who wishes a copy. In this program are interesting synopses of each opera written by two distinguished music critics of the San Francisco Chronicle and San Francisco Examiner, Messrs. A. V. Frankenstein and Alexander Fried. It also includes histories of the operas, notes about the composers and interpretations of the principal arias. For easy reference, the radio stations, date and time of each opera broadcast are shown, together with a listing of the principal artists and the roles they sing.

These beautifully printed souvenir booklets may be obtained, without cost, by writing to Post Office Box 2189, San Francisco, 26, California.

William B. Addiego Addresses Lions at Wednesday Meet

William B. Addiego, public relations representative for the Calvert Distilling company figured as guest of honor at the Daly City Lions club Wednesday, September 5, at their regular noonday meeting.

"If you drink, drink moderately, —if you drink, drink wisely was the keynote of Mr. Addiego's rather informal discourse, in which he touched briefly on liquor taxes and some of the fine points of distilling good whiskey. It was the opinion of Addiego that the amount of whiskey consumed per capita is considerably less now than in the "wide open" days prior to the whiskey shortage of recent memory.

That regular meeting of the Daly City Lions club on Wednesday, September 11 welcomed Claude Nelson of the Market Basket, Mission and Acton streets, back to the fold as the first former member to return from the Army. Boruff Smith, a United Press reporter, was initiated as a new member, to complete the business of the day.

Be Prepared Now for the many NEW Postwar Appliances you'll use in your home

Think back to the home or homes you have lived in, in the past ten years. Remember the inconveniences of house-wiring from lights that blinked when the refrigerator went on, or the wires you strung along the floor to connect a lamp or clock or radio; or the fuses that blew out when you connected the iron? By spending very little extra money on ADEQUATE WIRING...all these things could have been avoided.

Give Adequate Wiring the place it should have in your home. Plan ahead for the many new home appliances, for better lighting, for television, by wiring ahead for 194X living. Carefully check over wiring plans when you remodel or build and make sure the house-wiring has these essentials:

1. Plenty of plug-in outlets.
2. Plenty of light switches properly placed.
3. Wires that are large enough (at least number twelve wire) to supply all the appliances that will be used during the lifetime of your home.

Catch T.B.

Now officials of the department of agriculture warn dairy farmers to protect their cows against people with t.b. They report evidence in which four herds of cattle became infected with tuberculosis from one person. What's more they find that this human t.b. victim originally contracted the t.b. from cattle. They find that cattle t.b. causes tuberculosis of the lungs and that t.b. can be transmitted to cattle.

Painting Doors

Doors that are open in warm weather frequently have both sides exposed to sun and rain, and should be kept well painted so that moisture will not seep into the panel joints and cause the door to fall apart. Likewise, window sashes should be given special attention, as the putty around the glass deteriorates if not painted periodically.

Dr. Charles Gans Asks Grand Jury For Health Aid

In a move to gain appropriations for the County Health and Welfare fund, Dr. Charles Gans welcomed recommendations from the grand jury's health and welfare board of San Mateo county.

Plans for postwar clinics and enlargement of parent facilities, according to Dr. Gans, were outlined in a letter to the County Planning Commission, dated December 18, 1944 in which he requested an appropriation of approximately $200,000.

Dr. Gans, director of the San Mateo County Department of Public Health and Welfare, stated he hoped for an appropriation sufficient to alleviate conditions which have been cited by the grand jurors as needing improvement. Particular attention will be given to conditions at the Daly City and Burlingame clinics, Canyon Sanitarium, Community hospital and the installation of an emergency hospital complete with staff and ambulance service to the northern part of the county.

"We've already promised," Dr. Gans said, "to improve conditions at Canyon Sanitarium and other institutions where tuberculosis patients are treated at a yearly cost of at least $6000 to the State of California. Failure to meet state standards might easily lead to a sharp curtailment of appropriations."

A vigorous county-wide dispute flared up last December as the result of the health director's letter suggesting a health center to be constructed "in the very center of population" which pointed by inference, to San Mateo.

At the time the suggestion was immediately opposed by County Executive Frederick Peterson and others who objected to the movement of county affairs from Redwood City.

Admitting he had never received an official reply to his suggestion that a site be purchased as soon as possible, Dr. Gans declared his department was powerless to correct the present overcrowded health facilities without sufficient funds. He suggested that the county executive would be the one to obtain an appropriation now.

The health center according to Dr. Gan's proposal would contain the offices of the directorate and the administrative division covering various other divisions and institutions, wth offices conference rooms and clinics as well as the social service division. Private offices would be provided for social service workers.

Meeting rooms and offices would be provided for a county board of public health, the county medical and dental associations, the tuberculosis and health associations, and other kindred health organizations, his proposal stated.

A report to the full panel will be given by the grand jury next week. Daly City and Burlingame clinics are described as "overcrowded and inadequate," Canyon Sanitarium lacks sufficient equipment and this institution will particularly recommend a complete emergency hospital and ambulance service to the north part of the county as outlined in Dr. Gans proposal.

Tomato Fertilization

In fertilizer tests with tomatoes the Wisconsin Experiment station found that the best treatment paid a net of $244 above the no-fertilizer treatment. The most profitable was a broadcast application of 500 pounds of a 6-6-20 plus 500 pounds of a 3-12-12 applied as a side-dressing. The fertilizer cost $20.80 and increased yields 69 per cent. These tests were made on a late variety and they suggest that on an early variety the results might have been better.

Daily Occurrence

Japan has about three-and-a-half earthquake shocks a day on the average. Over a test period of 13 years, seismographs recorded 17,750 tremors in Japan, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica. Most of these earthquakes are imperceptible.

Watch For Children Crossing Streets--- Motorists Warned

The opening of school brings a concentration of child pedestrian and bicycle traffic. Mothers, your child is in danger if he has not learned to cross streets properly on the way to and from school. The basic safety rule is that streets should be crossed only at intersections—no dashing across in the middle of the block.

See that Johnnie forms the habit of crossing only at the corners. You will be a better safety teacher for him than "old man experience" because experience does not always let his pupils live to graduate. Motorists too must acquire the habit of being particularly watchful for school traffic.

Crocker PTA Hears Dr. Ivan Budaeff Discuss Tetanus

The regular meeting of Crocker PTA was called to order on Tuesday, September 11, 1945 by Vice-president Alice Tylinda, following which Mrs. Florence McKay led the pledge to the flag and the collect was read in unison. Mrs. Vivian Pahlka read a charming verse entitled "The Business of the Day."

Dr. Ivan Budaeff was guest speaker of the day with a most unusual topic touching on the causes and results of tetanus. Rusty nails and rotten wood splinters are dangerous carriers of the germs said Dr. Budaeff. He drew a sharp line between various types of germs, some being able to live on air and others that remain in the system long after the disease is apparently cured. Severe headaches and backaches, tremors and muscular stricture were given as typical symptoms and warning that it is time to call your doctor.

Mildred Seiler, membership chairman, reported 16 new members in the fold.

Crocker PTA Sewing club will meet at the home of Mrs. Lyal Ingersoll, 439 Crocker avenue at 12 noon for their regular meeting and luncheon. This active group plans to hold a bazaar on the first Friday in December which will be the historic 7th.

Completing the day's business, Mrs. Mildred Seiler was elected parliamentarian for the term and Mrs. Alice Tylinda was selected to go to the district meeting at Burlingame with Mrs. Eva Hobbs, president. Refreshments were served before Crocker PTA adjourned at 3 p. m.

Atty. Gen. Kenny Charges Breakdown In Law Enforcement

An asserted "breakdown" in law enforcement of gambling conditions in San Mateo county draws fire from Atty. Gen. Robert W. Kenny who has requested Dist. Atty. Gilbert Ferrell and Sheriff J. J. McGrath for reports which so far have not been forthcoming according to statements from their local offices.

Kenny asked for reports recently after a complaint from Harold Sawallisch, chairman of the assembly public morals committee, asserting that there was laxity in law enforcement.

In rebuttal, Kenny said at Sacramento today that about half the state's 58 counties have already submitted reports. "All county authorities who have reported state there has been no breakdown of law enforcement," Kenny stated.

No indication of the tenor of their reports which are expected in the near future, has been given by either Ferrell or McGrath.

Mrs. Ann Eason and Mrs. Lillian Cavagnaro will be in charge of arrangements for the dance which will be held as before in No. 5 Firehouse at Oliver and Bellevue. Teenagers are urged to turn out in force for this event and to bring along any of their friends who wish to attend.

Topheavy Traffic Calls for New County Highways

A mounting toll of highway jams and accidents due to topheavy traffic demands on San Mateo county's heavily traveled arteries brings the question of funds for extension and improvement of highways, boiling to the surface again.

County Engineer M. A. Grant stated recently that he expects state highway commission officials within the next few days to convene and decide which of the proposed road improvement projects would be given the go ahead signal. Among plans laid before the officials are the improvement of Bayshore boulevard, the construction of underpasses on Junipero Serra highway, additional highways throughout the county and improvements on La Honda road from Woodruff corner to the coast. The latter project is conceded in some minds to be the most eligible.

Nothing has been "earmarked" so far according to Grant who would not commit himself as to which road would benefit most by extra appropriations over the $300,000 now received by the county from the state's gasoline revenues.

Florence Morris Becomes Bride of Howard W. Young

At a quiet all family affair, Florence Morris, daughter of Mrs. Howard B. Young became the bride of Howard W. Young, son of Howard B. Young at the home of their parents, 313 Winchester street, Saturday, September 8 at 6:30 p. m. Performing the rites was the Reverend William Harberts of the Grace Presbyterian church.

The bride wore a gold suit with brown accessories and an orchid corsage.

Her sole attendant was Mrs. George Young who was dressed in brown and wore a gardenia corsage.

George Young, brother of the groom was best man.

A wedding dinner followed the ceremony.

Impairs Vision

Public Enemy No. 1 to eye health is spyhilis, according to the Better Vision Institute. Some public health surveys indicate that one out of every 20 persons in the U. S. is syphilitic. The illness may affect all parts of the eye, the eye muscles and the optic nerve.

Gas Experiment Injures Children At Local Auto Camp

Mark Twain's immortal Huckleberry Finn may have been only a figment of the imagination but his spirit lives on in all boys, it would seem, and Jack Cavanaugh of a nearby trailer camp is no exception. Jack is in the dog house now and all because of a little experiment that back fired.

It seems that Jack had acquired a small tin of gasoline and as he wears glasses, he was seized (merely in the interests of science of course) with the desire to see if the sun shining through the "specs" would ignite the gasoline as had been hinted to him. It would and it did but the results must have been a little too rugged for he kicked the can away and it splashed.

The splashing wouldn't have been so bad but he had an audience in the person of 12 year old Madeline Moltzer of Trailer No. 4, 6925 Mission street who was right in the line of fire and who also attempted to stamp out the fire with her feet. Madeline sustained some pretty bad burns on her legs and Jack's hand was also splashed with burning gasoline.

The resulting commotion attracted the attention of Mrs. Lengenfelter of Trailer No. 26 who rushed the child to the Alemany hospital for emergency treatment. Later Madeline was removed to the care of Dr. Ivan Budaeff. Take it easy Jack . . . we want to keep the citizens of this community all in one piece.

The delegates chosen to attend the 17th District School of Instruction are Hazel Marsh, president; Lena Banfield, financial secretary; Mildred Ventura, recording secretary; Wilma Harju, hospitality chairman and Alyce Supanich, motion picture chairman.

Next week the regular meeting of Woodrow Wilson PTA will be held at Woodrow Wilson school. That will be on September 18 at 2 p. m.

It was decided to hold the regular annual magazine whist on October 25 as there will probably be no other whist this year.

LOCAL SERVICE

SERVING YOUR COMMUNITY

Carrying local passengers in California is Greyhound's first consideration. Last year we carried over 46 million passengers in this state. The average trip made by these passengers was only 35 miles. That represents "local" service.

Passengers get on and off the familiar blue and white buses at many convenient points along the highway, sometimes at their very door. A great many of these passengers are regular customers who depend on Greyhound's local service.

Many well-paid Greyhound employees make their homes in your community, while local activities and local organizations benefit from Greyhound's active participation in them. Greyhound is a part of this community with a real interest in your growth and prosperity.

OFF THE BLOTTER

Mrs. Mason of 458-A Winchester street, Daly City put in a hurry call for help from the police Saturday, September 8, when her two year old son, Donald contrived to run a stick into the roof of his mouth. Officer Dean Wood responded to the SOS and hurried the tot to the Alemany hospital where the attending physician said the boy would have to have stitches in the roof of his mouth. Emil Bertelli in Prowl Car No. 365 then took the boy to the Community hospital and he is now in stitches.

A cement mixer and a street car make strange bedfellows and the combination caused some consternation at Mission street opposite the intersection of Los Olivos avenue last Saturday, September 8. Joseph Scrivant, 25 Capp street, San Francisco driver of the cement mixing truck, tangled with a No. 40 street car run by Motorman D. K. Stevenson, 934 South Grant avenue, San Mateo, who was not amused. He was on run No. 7 on Mission street. Nothing serious happened, no bones broken just another traffic mishap where somebody zigged that should have zagged.

Report of a stolen car was made at the police station in Daly City by Elsie J .Atkinson, 435 Niantic avenue who stated that her car, a Buick sedan, was taken from in front of 4885 Mission street where she had parked it.

Wallace S. Hover, 373 Bellevue avenue, Daly City, driving a Chevrolet dump truck north on Mission street, grazed the car belonging to James Welsh, 375 Evergreen avenue while parking his truck. Slight damage was done to the fender of Welsh's car.

A Studebaker sedan owned by C. W. Anderson 3255 26th street, was left parked on a hill with the brakes off and proceeded to wander off, first backing into 100 Hillcrest drive, then it ambled across the street and ran into a Dodge sedan belonging to Manuel Fontes of 101 Hillcrest drive damaging the right rear fender of Fontes car.

The entrance to 100 Hillcrest drive was banged up and Anderson's perambulating buggy bent its own front bumper and left rear fender before it was captured and hustled into a local garage. That was bad enough, says Anderson, but he also sustained a traffic tag for violating Section 595 C. V. C. which translated means "you can't leave your car unattended without setting the brakes."

Warn Drivers To Cut Speed And Save Cars

Drivers of the nation were warned today that neither they nor their cars are in shape to indulge in a post-war speed spree without piling up the biggest traffic toll in the country's history.

The warning came from a joint committee on post-war speed control that represents 14 national organizations, official and otherwise, interested in traffic safety.

A report published for the committee by the National Safety Council cites the danger to America's life and limb from uncontrolled speed during the post-war transition period and makes specific recommendations for holding down the traffic toll in the months ahead.

"The nation is in no condition," says the committee, "to return suddenly to pre-war speeds. The present average age of passenger cars is more than eight years, as compared with an average of four and a half years in 1940.

"Many tires have been driven far beyond their normal life. Many streets and highways are in even worse condition than they were in 1944.

"Drivers and pedestrians have become accustomed to top speeds of 35 to 40 miles. Police, highway and other traffic departments are woefully undermanned. Returning service men have been used to driving under vastly different conditions.

"A sudden return to pre-war speeds may well produce an accident tol! far greater than the pre-war peak of 40,000 deaths and 1,400,000 injuries reached in 1941.

"This toll can be averted only by the wisest and most energetic action of traffic officials, supported by organized public opinion—and most of all by understanding and self control on the part of every motorist and pedestrian."

To the driver, the speed control committee offers these suggestions:

1. Know the condition of your car, tires and brakes—and drive accordingly.
2. Remember the danger of a tire or brake failure on the other driver's car.
3. Don't forget the need for readjusting your timing in stopping or passing when driving at higher speeds. It takes twice as far to stop at 50 miles an hour as at 35.
4. Be constantly suspicious that the other driver isn't used to higher speeds, too, and give him plenty of room.
5. Remember—only a few people who started driving after 1941 have had any experience with high speed traffic. And pedestrians, too, are not expecting cars to approach at high speed.

"Drivers are urged to increase their top speed very gradually, if at all," the committee says, "and to increase their caution and watchfulnes with every added mile."

The committee's report warns pedestrians to remember that approaching cars may be coming half again as fast as in wartime, and that extra care and agility must be used to avoid being struck.

Traffic enforcement officers and courts—state, county and city—are urged by the committee to take prompt, vigorous action to prevent an epidemic of dangerous speeding.

Driver license departments are asked to emphasize the danger of speed and warworn cars when granting licenses to returned service men. Wise use of the power of revoking or suspending driver licenses for excessive speed is urged.

Traffic engineers, the committee points out, can help hold down the post-war accident toll by renewing road markings, making sure all signes are clearly visible, erecting proper warning signs at hazard points and by determining safe speeds at various points and informing drivers of these speeds.

The committee urges an intensive campaign of public information to drivers and pedestrians of all ages on the special dangers of the transition period. Civic, service and other organizations are urged to give active support to a united safety program.

"Every driver should remember," said the committee, "that he is liable to arrest and conviction for traffic violation if he is driving in an unsafe manner, or at a speed greater than is reasonable and prudent under the circumstances, even though he may be well under the new numerical speed limits. In other words — hold down that speed, and drive carefully at any speed!"

Radar Experts Disclose Secrets Of New IFF Device

How Chicago radio engineers solved the problem of enabling radar to distinguish enemy planes and thus helped perfect the device which is termed "the brains of radar" was disclosed here today. The information was revealed as the War Department lifted censorship on this hitherto secret electronic marvel.

The device is known as IFF (Identification: Friend of Foe) in military circles and has been surrounded by such great secrecy that it has not yet been given a name more appropriate for peacetime purposes. The necessity for such a device was determined as soon as radar was adopted for military uses because all types of airplanes give exactly the same response to the radar beam. While radar served to warn of the approach of enemy aircraft when it was known definitely that none of our planes were in the air, it lost its effectiveness in areas where there was continuing air activity by both sides in warfare.

Early in the war, the British devised several means of identifying aircraft by modifying the type of reflection of the radar impulse. Although none of these systems was completely satisfactory, the experiments also showed the necessity of a standard system to be used by all the Allied nations.

As a result, representatives of the U. S. Army and Navy and the British armed services held a series of meetings to set up the requirements for a successful method of radar identification. When this was done, the work of designing the component parts of the system was assigned to several large manufacturers in the field of electronics. The problem of developing the ground unit of IFF for the Army was turned over to the direction of engineers of the Belmont Radio Corporation in February, 1942. Belmont was selected for the assignment not only because it was one of the first radio plants in the country to be devoted entirely to war work and had established outstanding production records, but also because its engineers had made major improvements on many wartime electronic devices.

Due to the highly secret nature of this work, it was deemed advisable that it be carried on in the confines of an Army reservation. Belmont was therefore assigned a hangar on Sandy Hook, N. J., and moved a crew of approximately 40 engineers to this area. In view of the magnitude of this operation, as well as the fact that production requirement would be extremely large, the Wells-Gardner company and the Admiral corporation were asked to participate. Each furnished a number of engineers to work under Belmont's direction. In order to further preserve the secrecy of this vital development, all of these engineers were housed by Belmont under a single roof in an area adjacent to that in which the development was undertaken.

After approximately six months, the engineering design was completed and the project returned to Chicago for manufacture by the participating companies under the direction and coordination of the Belmont Radio corporation.

The IFF system which was perfected gives positive identification and is now used with all radar equipment by the armed forces. IFF is essentially a form of radar, but it also requires a separate ground unit with a directional antenna, as well as a special receiver and transmitter in the airplane.

Here is how the IFF system works:

The radar picks up an approaching plane and indicates its position and range. From this information, the directional antenna on the IFF ground unit is adjusted to point directly to that position. Secondly, the range circuit is adjusted so that the response, in the event it is a friendly flyer, will come only from the plane in the range previously determined by the radar.

Then the IFF ground unit sends out a pulse of radio frequency energy. If the plane is friendly, it is equipped with a receiver for this impulse. The impulse is passed through a coding device and relayed to the transmitter of the plane. The transmitter returns the signal and it is received and shown on the IFF ground unit display panel. From the nature of the code signal received, the IFF ground unit operator can immediately determine whether the plane under observation is friend or foe. The equipment in the airplane is turned on when the ship leaves the ground and its operation is completely automatic, requiring no attention from the pilot.

IFF was adopted for a new and important use at the time of the Normandy invasion. The ground units were planted at points inland by Allied secret service agents and the electronic beams served to guide planes and gliders so that paratroopers could be dropped at the most strategic points. Never before in warfare had parachute troops and gliders been landed so accurately and the means by which it was done remained a mystery to the enemy.

Since IFF was perfected, the Belmont plant has produced more than $75,000,000 worth of ground units for the U. S. Signal Corps and Air Corps, and the production has exceeded 600 units per month. The Belmont plant has continued to be the major source of supply of the IFF ground units.

According to experts in the field of electronics, IFF equipment has a definite application to peacetime aviation. Any plane carrying a small IFF unit can be located almost instantly by its home airport or the airport to which it is flying. Or, if a pilot flew off his course, he could, using regular radio communication, ask the nearest airport to determine his exact location by stating his IFF code. In this case, the IFF operator at the airport would search with his antenna until he received a signal with this code and, from readings on position and range, could advise the pilot of the airplane's location.

The advantage of IFF is that it does not have the defects of the radio compass because it operates on higher frequencies. At the present time the radio compass is not infrequently affected by climatic conditions which renders it subject to considerable error.

County Executive Sees Acquisition Of Butano Forest

Mrs. Gregory Davis of San Mateo, recreation committee chairman for Baywood PTA spearheading an appeal for letters and appearances by groups interested in the state acquisition of Butano Forest, today urged every organization in the county to add its voice to the plea for state purchase.

Frederick Peterson county executive indicated he forsees the early state ownership of the 5000-acre primitive redwood forest in southwestern San Mateo county, a tract said to be valued at $500,000. Peterson announced County Recreation Commission members and Hal Coombs, county park superintendent will meet September 26 at Eureka to attempt immediate state action. Peterson stated he offers the county's Memorial park and Coastside beaches—of equal value with present improvements, as the county's "matching sum." Acceptance of this offer is probable according to State Commission Chairman Joseph Knowland. Available state funds for purchase are said to be earmarked in a $15,000,000 appropriation.

Peterson stressed the need for early action before Pacific Shore Lumber Co. the present owners start logging operations on the tract which has been described as the "finest stand of lumber in the state."

Mrs. Davis, as spokesman for a group of interested organizations says "Matching of the state's expenditures, as is necessary to purchase Butano, with the county's offer of Memorial park and the improved coastside beaches, is considered legal and feasible by Mr. Knowland. He told me in our recent conference at Oakland that he thought the deal not only could but would be made. I urge everyone interested to add his letter to the pile growing daily on the desk of the state park commissioner at Sacramento."

Arsonist Suspected In Series of Recent Local Fires

Rumors of a firebug and the hint that three recent fires within one city block and a few hours apart, were not of incendiary origin, have storekeepers in the vicinity of Mission and Market streets in Daly City on the lookout for a possible arsonist.

The Bottoni Poultry Store, 7384 Mission street was the first to turn in an alarm from Fire box 613 at 9:30 p. m., September 7. Fire Companies 1, 2, 4, 6 responded to the call and found the shed in back of the poultry store almost burned down.

At 10 p. m. from the same fire box another alarm sounded and Companies 1 and 6 responded to find the rear of Belli's store, Market and San Pedro road badly scorched. Scarcely had the second fire subsided when a third alarm at 11 p. m. brought Fire Companies 1, 2, 4, 6, on the run to Lucca's Ravioli company at Mission and Market streets. Here they found that another fire had been started in a pile of discarded boxes and rubbish at the rear of the store. Due to the promptness of the fire department none of the stores were seriously damaged.

Hikers' Keen Picnic Appetites Tax Basket Packer's Skill

AUTUMN is the best of all times for picnics, when hiking or bicycling is the means of reaching the picnicking site. Crisp fall air is more conducive to either means of journeying. It's conducive, too, to real appetites, so it's wise to plan compact lunches that are high in appetite satisfaction.

You can pack the lunch in small parcels that can be strapped to handlebars or carried in knapsacks, or the picnickers can take turns carrying a big picnic basket if they hike. Whichever way you pack the lunch, you'll have to put the picnic beverage in one or two vacuum bottles to be divided up for everybody. You'll find a popular thirst quencher is Picnic Coffolate, a satisfying beverage made of milk and chocolate and caffeinless coffee, so that everybody can drink it without worrying over later sleeping problems. Remember if you make caffeinless coffee in a percolator, it should be "perked" from 15 to 18 minutes to bring out its full, rich coffee flavor. Chill the vacuum bottles and the Coffolate thoroughly if you want to serve it cold.

Hard-cooked eggs, sandwiches with cheese or jelly fillings, fresh fruit, and cookies or doughnuts or an easy-to-carry cake all add up to a good autumn picnic menu.

Picnic Coffolate

1 cup strong decaffeinated coffee
2 squares unsweetened chocolate
3 tablespoons sugar
Dash of salt
3 cups milk

Make decaffeinated coffee extra-strength, using 1½ tablespoons for each cup (½ pint) water. Add chocolate to coffee in top of double boiler and place over low flame, stirring until chocolate is melted and blended. Add sugar and salt, and boil 4 minutes, stirring constantly. Place over boiling water. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly; then heat. When hot, beat with rotary egg beater until frothy. Serve hot or cold. Serves 4.

Stone Jar Molasses Cookies

3 cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons double acting baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon ginger
1 cup molasses
½ cup shortening
½ teaspoon soda

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and ginger, and sift again. Heat molasses, remove from fire; add shortening and soda. Add flour gradually, mixing well. Chill until firm enough to shape. Shape into small balls about ¾ inch in diameter. Place about 2 inches apart on greased baking sheet. Press flat with bottom of glass covered with damp cloth. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 15 minutes, or until done. Remove from pan carefully. Cool. For crisp cookies store in air-tight container; for chewy cookies store in stone jar. Makes 4½ dozen cookies.

"ANGEL" HALO FOR EVENING

Attuned to the spirit of homecoming celebrations, the gold cellophane braid and horsehair crownless halo worn by CBS actress Louise ("Stars Over Hollywood") Arthur was designed by DeViller of Hollywood for gala evenings.

Rich Beauty of Mutation Mink Complimented by Simple Style

Natural Silverblu mink, the highly developed progeny of fur aristocracy, has been simply styled to display its full beauty in the youthful model chosen by CBS singing star Patrice ("Family Hour") Munsel from a collection of Arnheimer originals. Blending with the shining texture of the flexible fur, Patrice wears a black felt and satin chef bonnet created by Peg Fischer.

Alfred Brutt Is Drowned at Martin's Beach

Death turned a happy outing into tragedy last Monday, September 10 when a rowboat capsized at Martin's Beach, causing the drowning of Alfred Brutt, 28, Daly City and a close call for his companion Miss Barbara Harris 18, of Oakland.

According to reports made to Coast Guard and Constable Fred Simmons of Half Moon Bay, the pair had rented a boat from Mrs. Helen Watt at the beach for an afternoon's outing. Onlookers observed that the little craft was in trouble as it reached open water and a rising wind buffeted them with huge waves, but they were helpless to aid the couple.

Apparently the little boast was struck broadside as Brutt fought to bring it back to the beach through the heavy sea. Brutt appeared to sink immediately he struck the water but Miss Harris was able to reach the shore where she was dragged to safety by onlookers. She was hurried to the Point Montara Naval Training hospital where medical corpsmen stated she suffered only shock.

Although Coast Guardsmen from the Golden Gate Station, who were called to the scene, searched until late at night, no trace of Brutt's body was found. His home was at 274 Irvington street, Daly City. Miss Harris lives at 640- Leona street, Oakland.

Economical Preparation

To prepare foods with little waste, housewives should cook poatoes in their jackets, cook meats at a low temperature, serve vegetables and fruits raw if possible, boil potatoes before frying and cook vegetables under lids and in small amounts of water.

Grubs Costly

In 1942, 35 per cent of all cattle hides in the United States—some 6⅓ million—were graded as grubby. A grubby hide is one that has five or more grub holes. Grubs pepper holes in the back leather, the thickest and most valuable part of the hide.

Camouflage Fixture

Here's an idea for camouflaging a bedroom ceiling fixture. When you paint your ceiling paint over the ugly iron fixture. To replace the shade use a bridge lamp shade, invert it and screw it to the fixture. Fill the bottom opening with a piece of cardboard to match the lamp shade.

Use Mothproofing Liquid

Watch the danger spots for moths. They tuck away in corners, under radiators and heavy furniture, on stair risers and near baseboards. It's important to generously spray these areas twice a year with a mothproofing liquid. To combat moths keep rugs thoroughly clean and exposed to light and air.

Volunteers Now Sought by Navy States Lt. Comdr.

For the first time since December 1942, men between the ages of 18 and 30, inclusive, are now permitted to volunteer for enlistment in the Regular Navy and men 18 to 37, inclusive, for the Naval Reserve, it was announced by Lt. Comdr. L. H. Ridout jr., officer in charge of Navy recruiting and induction for northern and central California.

This voluntary enlistment program has been authorized by the Navy Department's Bureau of Personnel in Washington, D. C., and is effective immediately declared Lt. Comdr. Ridout, whose headquarters are at 98 Golden Gate avenue, San Francisco.

In addition, enlistment of qualified 17 year olds will continue. Applicants under 21 years of age are required to obtain consent of parents or guardians.

As evidence of the need for large number of volunteers to man the ships of an expanding peacetime fleet, Lt. Comdr. Ridout added that under special conditions, men up to the age of 50 will be accepted for the Naval Reserve.

The term of enlistment in the Regular Navy for men 18 years and over is four years while the term for a 17 year old expires the day before his 21st birthday. Enlistment terms in the Naval Reserve are two, three and four years.

Men desiring to take advantage of this opportunity for training in a skilled trade, travel, adventure and good pay may apply at the Navy Recruiting station, 98 Golden Gate avenue, San Francisco.

Turn-About

Robespierre, who afterwards put thousands of innocent people to death during the French revolution, in his early years lost his job as a judge of the Ecclesiastical court, for having refused, on grounds of opposition to capital punishment, to sign a murderer's death warrant

Surrender Ended War

Lord Cornwallis' surrender at Yorktown, October 19, 1781, ended the American struggle for independence.
